San Diego Magazine announces finalists for the 2016 Woman of the Year

Catherine Mattice of Civility Partners has been named a finalist for San Diego Magazine's 2016 Woman of the Year Awards. All finalists will be featured in San Diego Magazine's September issue, which comes out August 19. The Woman of the Year will be announced at the Celebrating Women event on September 29, 2016 at MCASD La Jolla.

ABOUT THE AWARD:

San Diego Magazine's Woman of the Year Award is given to one woman each year who has worked tirelessly to affect positive change and enhance the community. She is an unabashed leader, champion of helping others, and widely respected by her peers for her measurable success in business and outstanding character.

Nominations are evaluated based on the following categories:

- Leadership
- Passion and mission
- Challenges and perseverance
- Personal integrity, charitable contributions and volunteer work
- Achievement
- Humanitarian/social enterprise
- Impact/measurability

CELEBRATING WOMEN EVENT:

All finalists are honored at the Celebrating Women event on September 29 at MCASD La Jolla, which includes hosted bites and beverages, a networking hour, a panel discussion, awards ceremony and dessert. Last year's Woman of the Year, Dr. Karen S. Haynes, Dean of California State University San Marcos will present the award to this year's winner.
